Handbell Choir: Handbell choir will be starting practices again on Tuesdays (6:30pm) in October and we are looking for some new members (high school age and up) who can read music and are willing to commit to 3 months of being in bells! If you are interested, talk with Laurie about becoming part of our group. (There is a little audition to join that consists of an interview about your music background to make sure you have the skill set needed to be able to ring and possibly a ringing lesson so you can try it.) We can't wait to get ringing again and to welcome new members!

Our leadership has decided that, at this time, we will continue to require proof of vaccination to enter the building for worship & events in compliance with the NB Governments mandatory order. We will continue to put every effort into providing a quality online option for those that cannot join us or prefer to worship from home. We are continuing to monitor the situation as GNB issues new guidelines and we thank you for your kindness and patience as we continue to balance our government's instructions and our desire to worship together.
